TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 11, 1861

Eastern News

We give news as late as the 6th inst. from the States. The telegraph is doing a good business, and we are told by a San Francisco paper that Washington news can be published on the same day in that city as in New York. We shall suffer great inconvenience in the irregularity of our dispatches until we have a line from Portland to Yreka.

On yesterday morning we received two dispatches from Yreka, and at the same time the San Francisco papers by the Pacific, all containing the same news. One of our dispatches was kept back by a failure of the stages to connect between this place and Yreka.

We learn by the dispatches and papers,—that Gen. Scott has resigned, and has been placed on the retired list with full pay; that McClellan takes his place as commander of the army, and Gen. Halleck succeeds as commander of the army on the Potomac; that the Naval Expedition, at the last accounts, was near Bull's Bay, 25 miles from Charleston, where the troops would land; that the army of the Potomac was preparing to advance; that Rosekranz had had a fight with Floyd in Western Virginia, and it was believed that he would bag the "thief;" that the pirates of the Petrel were about to be tried in Philadelphia; that Gen. Fremont had been superceded and the command of the North Western army given to Hunter; that Fremont had behaved in the best manner in satisfying his disatisfied soldiers; that the naval expedition had suffered somewhat by a storm, but the weather had become good and all was right again; that Gen. Wool has resigned, and that reports were rife that Beauregard had resigned; that the rebels in Missouri had made a stand and that they had 60,000 troops, that the federal army were ready to meet and fight them; that the recent elections in the East had all terminated for the Union, &c. &c. We have other reports which may prove to be correct; among them is that of the capture of Charleston by the Federal forces.

In regard to this matter the following are supposed to be the facts: Ross, Dupster & Co. received a private dispatch on the morning of the 7th from St. Louis, announcing the capture of Charleston. They placed it on the news board at the Merchants Exchange. It was copied by the reporter of the San Francisco Herald and published in an extra. The San Francisco Bulletin of the same date (7th inst.) made no mention of the report. The private dispatch is as follows:

CHARLESTON FALLEN.

St. Louis, Nov. 7th.—A private dispatch was received this morning, to the effect that Charleston had been bombarded by the Federal fleet and captured.

It is rumored that further details state that a force of 30,000 men landed and attacked Charleston, while the fleet engaged in the bombardment of the forts.

The fleet is reported to have landed a large force above and below Charleston, and made a simultaneous attack on the city.

We shall probably have our regular dispatch this morning, which will contain later news.

SAUVIE'S ISLAND RIGHTS.—We have a communication from Sauvie's Island who speaks with great indignation of a report in circulation that the citizens of Sauvie's Island are all secessionists. This is denied most emphatically: and it states that two thirds of the citizens are Union men and would make any sacrifice to preserve the government and the Union.

Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, says: "If, after administering the oath of allegiance to a Secessionist, you bring him on the spot he will break it."

Gen. Harney, it is hinted, may possibly be transferred to the command of the Department of the Pacific. His strong arm and our best gallantry are missed from the service.
